Introducing Our New Floating Water Extraction Tool!

The Butler Corporation is pleased to announce our new Floating Water Extraction Tool. This innovative extraction tool is ideal for small to large flooded areas. There are no limits to the depth of the water, since the tool is designed to float as it extracts water continuously down to 1/4" above the floor surface. Filters out large particles of debris before water enters the Recovery Tank. Requires no adjustment to the Butler system. Use with or without our optional Automatic Pump-Out System.
